

Just like here, fellowship generally includes food. Wade enjoys eating and isn't afraid to try anything. The main course on the left is Rabbit Heads. Wade says they are messy, and too much work for too little return but otherwise pretty good.

Who needs a truck?

Wade was very impressed with how much people were able to carry on these tricycle carts.

Sunday morning Service - Wade was teaching on the Holy Spirit. There was a visit by the police who did take Wade's picture, but no one seemed bothered by their presence. Wade was told that they come to check up on what is going on wherever people regularly gather. As he didn't say anything against the Government I guess he will be able to come home.

It is the faces of the students that I find the most rewarding. They are hungry and very focused on the teachings.
